WEEKLY NOTE

Promulgated by Pope Pius XI on December 11, 1925, the papal encyclical Quas primas was a direct response to the rise of secularism, totalitarianism, and the exclusion of Christian morality from public life after World War I. Pius XI argued that true and lasting global peace could only be achieved by seeking the "peace of Christ in the Kingdom of Christ."

The core theme of the encyclical is the Social Reign of Christ, which asserts that Jesus Christ's kingship is not a private, spiritual matter confined to the afterlife. Instead, His universal dominion extends over all temporal affairs, meaning that individuals, families, and governments are all subject to His divine law. The text warns that when states reject this authority, society slides into moral decay and tyranny.

To permanently embed this teaching, Pius XI established the Feast of Christ the King. He believed that an annual, public liturgical celebration would instruct the hearts and minds of the faithful far more effectively than academic treatises, constantly reminding Christians that their ultimate allegiance belongs to God rather than any earthly ruler or political ideology. Every year, we publicly renew the consecration of the Human Race to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. He must first reign in our hearts to reign in our families, societies and the World.

Prayer in adopting a dying Soul.

Heavenly Father, through the loving intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary, I humbly offer my prayer today by adopting a dying soul, known or unknown to me. May they be reconciled with You through an act of perfect contrition and be strengthened by the Sacraments of the Church, with the assistance of their loved ones. Amen.

One Our Father, One Hail Mary, and One Glory Be.
